

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Claims for missing numbers should be made within the month following the regular month of publication. The publishers expect to supply missing numbers free only when they have been lost in transit.

Business correspondence should be addressed to The University of Chicago Press, Chicago, Ill.

Communications for the editors should be addressed to them at The University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.

Contributors are requested to write scientific and proper names with particular care and in citations to follow the form shown in the pages of the Journal.

Separates, if desired, must be ordered in advance of publication. Separates of leading articles will be printed as ordered, of which 50 (without covers) will be furnished gratis, the actual cost of the remainder (and covers, if desired) to be paid for by the author. The table below shows the approximate cost of separates consisting of plain text or text with line engravings. The actual cost may vary from the figures given, and will depend upon the amount of work in re-making the pages into forms, press work, paper, binding, etc. Separates containing half-tones may be expected to cost somewhat more than the rates given, the increase depending upon the number of cuts and the amount of work required upon them.

Quantitative Classification of Igneous Rocks

Based on Chemical and Mineral Characters

With an Introductory Review of the Development of Systematic Petrography in the Nineteenth Century

By WHITMAN CROSS, JOSEPH P. IDDIGS, LOUIS V. PIRSSON, and HENRY S. WASHINGTON

THE BOOK presents in detail the new system of classification and nomenclature proposed by the authors. It contains a series of tables to aid in the calculation of mineral and chemical compositions of rocks, and a glossary of the new terms employed in the nomenclature. Having traced the development of petrography during the past century, the authors discuss the defects of the present system of classification, the basis on which a proper classification must be made, and the construction of the system proposed. The new nomenclature is then presented in full, including magmatic and rock names; and the last part of the book is devoted to methods of calculation, the tables, and the glossary. The book answers a need widely felt among petrologists in the last few years for a new petrographic system into which could be fitted the recent large additions to our knowledge of rocks.

A Contribution to the Theory of Glacial Motion

By THOMAS CHROWDER CHAMBERLIN

Head Professor of Geology in the University of Chicago

A SHORT treatise in which are discussed (1) the growth and constitution of a glacier; (2) the arrangement of the crystalline axes; (3) glacial temperatures; (4) the probable fundamental element in glacial motion; (5) auxiliary elements; (6) corroborative phenomena. There are appended a bibliography and twelve half-tone illustrations. 19 pp., 4to, paper, net, 50 cents; postpaid, 53 cents.

The Life History of Polysiphonia Violacea

By SHIGEO YAMANOUCHI, Fellow in Botany in the University of Chicago

54 pages, 10 plates, 8vo, paper, net $1.00, postpaid $1.05

Various authors have published accounts of investigations on the red algae, but the true life-history of the group has never been given. This paper presents first the results of the author's studies of the mitosis in germinating tetraspores and carpospores, and in the vegetative cells of mature plants; then comes an account of spermatogenesis, formation of procarp, fertilization, and development of the cystocarp; tetraspore formation is next considered, followed by a description of certain abnormalities; finally there is a discussion of the cytological phenomena and alternation of generations.
